Instructions

- Start by cutting a 12"x5" strip of 'This story' - I avoided cutting through the floral group on the back of the paper so I could use it on another page.
- I then cut a 2"x12" strip of Progress. I tore the edge of both sections of paper and then layered them over as below.
- Next take The 'Life' paper and fussy cut out a section of the wreath. I then layered it over the other papers as below.

- I then cut a 3/4"x12" & 2x8 1/4" sections of the spotty side of 'Right Now'. I arranged these with the photo over the top tucking the edges of the photo and strips underneath the trellis. Once happy stick these in place.
- To finish I added some thickers from my stash to create the title, and underlined it using the scalloped cardstock element.

Kit List: Pink Fresh 'Celebrate' range:

- 12x12 White cardstock
- 12x12 This Day
- 12x12 right now
- 12x12 Progress
- cardstock elements

- heart sticker.

- Start by taking the white 12x12 cardstock and cut an aperture approx 1" from the left side and bottom
- Next take the large flower from 'This Day' I cut all around the large pink flower leaving the corner in tact.
- I positioned it about 1/2" from the bottom and about 1/4" from the left side as shown.
- I Then took the remaining large piece of the yellow side of 'Right now' and backfill the remaining aperture.
- Cut 2 6x4" sections of the pink side of 'Progress', these are going to be used for the photo mount.
- Fan the mounts out and arrange your photo over the top. I then tucked the pink journaling spot and the grey journaling spot under the left and right of the photograph as shown
- I used the grey spot to add my journaling and then on the left side I used the green heart with the arrow layered over it.
- On the right side I added the cardstock title and then popped a gold heart from my stash above it.

- To finish I drew an archway of dots using the relief paint from the top left side of the flower to the title.

 cardstock elements

- Start by taking the 'Everyday Moments' paper DON'T REMOVE THE TITLE STRIP.
- Cut across the paper just below where the leaves stop as below.

- Run some tape along the title strip and then stick the white section to the top of the page to make it 12x12 again. I then cut a ½”x12” strip of the pink side of Progress and run it along the join of the 2 papers.

- Next I mounted my photos on to “Always’ I then arranged these along the white section along the top of the page.
- I then took the floral frame and cut in half diagonally to make 2 photo corners - I then added these to the two outside photos.
- I then cut a large flower group and two smaller buds from ‘Good Times’ I also cut a yellow flower and 2 leaf sections from the remaining part of ‘This Story’, I created a cluster below the photographs leaving space for the title.
- To finish, I added the ‘Cute’ title from my stash.
